B. PASCHAL WILL REPORT FOR TRAINING

Cleveland Americans Retain Enterprise for Another Year—Home For the Winter.

Ben Paschal, of Enterprise, formerly left fielder of the Dothan baseball team but more recently a member of the Cleveland Americans, will report for training with that club again next season.

This is taken as an indication that the manager of the Cleveland team must be favorably impressed with the Enterprise boy and will give him a chance to make that team next season.

Usually unseasoned players who like Paschal have but little experience yet are promising ball players, are drafted or kept in some of the bush leagues for a while longer.

Paschal played in only a few games at Cleveland this season but it is understood he made a good impression with the big baseball moguls.

In Paschal's first game at Cleveland he was sent in as a pinch hitter to bat for the pitcher. Up until that time the opposing team had held Cleveland hitless. Paschal got a nice one, like he used to latch onto here and singled, much to the satisfaction of his friends at home when they read of his good luck.

The youngster has not been given many opportunities this season but next year he may turn out to be a regular "cut-up" in the major league.

Paschal was in Montgomery Sunday, en route to his home at Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Clemmons of Hartford are in the city today.

TROPHY CUPS FOR PARADE ON DISPLAY

The trophy cups which will be awarded the successful competitors in the floral parade on the opening day of the Dothan fair, Monday, October 25, are on exhibition in the windows of the Dothan Jewelry Company.

The cups are pretty and have attracted a great deal of attention and no doubt the contest for their possession will prove interesting. They will be given as premiums to those who have the best, prettiest and most attractively decorated automobiles and floats and from the looks of things now there are going to be so many beautifully decorated automobiles and floats in the procession that it will be hard to tell "who's who and which is which."

The merchants are manifesting keen interest and have shown a liberal disposition to make opening day decidedly one of the most interesting of the week—surely the most beautiful of the week.

"Avoid the Rush."

Already the members of the committee, Miss Edith Wherette, Mrs. Eric Gelferstedt, Miss Annie Howell Jordan and Mrs. Fred Thomas, are calling on the business men and others to decide on their decorations and "avoid the rush." In cases of this kind it is always best for all concerned to not wait until the last minute.

Drew Peacock spent Sunday in Hartford.

Sam M. Watson and wife, and nephew Clanton Davis, of Colquitt, Ga., were here yesterday visiting relatives. They came over in Mr. Watson's Dodge car.

Joe Radney of Ashford was here today.

"MOON LIGHT" SCHOOL OPENS

First School in the County for Adults, R. H. Southerland, Teacher, Will Start at Webb Tonight.

The first school for adults in Houston county will open tonight at Webb under the direction of R. H. Southerland the teacher at that place.

Just how many adults Prof. Southerland expects to take advantage of his offer of a free night school is not known, but the chances are that the attendance will be liberal.

Other teachers in the county are not contemplating undertaking the extra work for adults until after the Dothan fair, October 25-30, according to D. O. Tolleson, supervisor of rural schools. Mr. Tolleson says the teachers will have their extra time taken up in preparing exhibits for the fair. After the fair, however, they will undertake the task of teaching adults.

Set's the Pace.

With the opening of his night school for adults tonight, Prof. Southerland will have set the pace for Houston county and no doubt flattering results in teaching the grown-ups will mark the undertaking. The plan has been carried out in Kentucky with a great degree of satisfaction.

Prof. Southerland is well known in Dothan where he once taught in the city schools and his friends here will wish him every success with his night school at Webb. He is one of the county's most progressive instructors.

Schools Open Today.

Nearly all of the 61 rural schools in Houston county opened today, says Mr. Tolleson, but he has not yet received figures on the attendance. He expects a prolific school year in rural schools.

GERMANS TRY TO RECAPTURE LOST TRENCHES

Paris, Oct. 3.—Repulse of four German attempts to retake lost trenches between Souchez and the woods at Vivienchy and of a similar attack north of Mesnil are reported in today's war office statement. The communication also says that the Germans bombarded the rear of the French lines in the valley of Suippes with asphyxiating shells and that the French artillery silenced several enemy batteries. Elsewhere the night was calm. The communication reads:

"Between Souchez and the woods of Vivienchy the enemy attempted in four hand grapple assaults to retake some portions of trenches he had lost. He was repulsed everywhere.

"In the Champagne a German counter attack against the positions which we conquered on October 1 to the north of Mesnil likewise was thrown back.

"The enemy bombarded the rear of our front, particularly in the valley of the Suippes, continuously with asphyxiating shells. Our artillery took the opposing batteries to task and reduced a number of them to silence.

"On the remainder of the front the night was calm."

The French war office statement tonight records the continuance of heavy bombardments, the capture by the French of a German blockhouse and the bombardment of Luxembourg by French aeroplanes. The text follows:

"In Artois we have made progress, capturing a blockhouse and entrenchments to the south of the woods of Vivienchy.

"There has been a bombardment by both sides of quite a violent nature to the south of Soume in the environs of Beaufort and Bouchoir, as well as on the Champagne front and in the Argonne to the north of Laharazee.

"In the Vosges the enemy has attempted, but unsuccessfully, to direct jets of liquid flame on our trenches at La Vielle, between the Col du Sainte Marie and the Col du Bouhamme. We replied by shattering his mine works by an effective counterblast (a small mine.)

"A group of aeroplanes this morning bombarded the station, the railroad bridge and the military buildings at Luxembourg."

The Belgian official communication reads:

"There have been artillery actions on all sides on the Belgian front."

BRYAN ANGRY.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 3.—Former Secretary of State Bryan, who arrived here today to deliver a lecture on "Peace," became very angry when reporters asked him if he would be a candidate for president again.

"That question is both impertinent and foolish," exclaimed Mr. Bryan as he dismissed the reporters.

MORE SHIPS ARE HELD BY BRITISH

London, Oct. 1.—(Delayed by Censor.)—Four more steamers have been detained at Kirkwall. They are Swedish St. John and the Ester, the Danish Rhosalom and the Norwegian Origen.

The St. John was last reported to have sailed from Baltimore September 16 for Gothenburg. The Ester sailed from Tampa September 5 for Newport News and Malmö.

The Absalom left Philadelphia September 15 for Copenhagen. The Origen sailed from New York September 14 for Kirkwall and Vallo.

Oil Ship Detained.

(By Censor.)—The Standard Oil by Censor.)—The Standard Oil Steamer Petrolite, under American registry, has been detained at Kirkwall. The cargo of the Norwegian steamer Vitalia, which was thrown into the prize court, September 28, is being held on the ground that it is conditional contraband.

The Petrolite sailed from Philadelphia September 15 for Kirkwall and Copenhagen. She had been released by the British authorities on August 17 after being previously detained.

The cargo of the Vitalia, from New York August 19 for Rotterdam, was thrown into the prize court although the goods were consigned to The Netherlands Overseas Trust. The British government contended that part of the cargo was not consigned to The Netherlands Trust. Announcement has been made that Chicago packing interests will protest the seizure.

BIG AIR RAID BY FRENCH IS PUT ON

London, Oct. 3.—Rain and mud have prevented the Anglo-French armies from continuing their full offensive in Artois. Fighting of a stubborn nature, however, is still going on. Success here, as in Champagne, apparently is varying, although the allies are holding virtually all the ground gained in last week's thrust.

That other thrusts will take place before long in the western conviction of military writers, who see in the repeated bombardments of the German positions on the Belgian coast by British ships and by big French guns and air raids over the German lines, evidence of another storm brewing. This will take some days to prepare.

Biggest Air Raid.

The air raid in Champagne yesterday by sixty-five French aeroplanes is the biggest thing of the kind ever undertaken. The French according to the German report, have lost the airship Alance, mentioned a few days ago in the official communication as doing valuable work.

There is little or no change in the east. The Russians, while being forced back at once or two points, are pressing the Germans at others, particularly east of Vilna, where Hindenburg's drive toward Minsk has been checked.

There is no further word of the reported Austro-German attack on Serbia, or of the operations in Gallipoli. The Russians in the Caucasus, following the lead of the British in Mesopotamia, are taking a more active offensive against the Turks.

COTTONWOOD SCHOOL BOARD LOSES POINT

Writ Not Granted Saying Children May Attend School Without Paying Required $1.00 Per Term.

Those who oppose a fee of $1.00 being charged each pupil for one term's instruction in the Cottonwood school have won the first point in the legal battle which has been started.

A writ nisi has been issued by W. A. Brown, clerk of the circuit court against the school board of Cottonwood, whose members are John W. Marshall, J. L. Goff, A. M. Sellers and Ben C. Chatter. The defendants in this case are cited to appear in court November 1 and show cause why a peremptory writ of mandamus shall not issue.

The issuance of the writ nisi means that the Cottonwood school must admit the children of J. W. Outlaw and A. E. Brunner regardless of whether the required fee of $1.00 per pupil each term is paid. These children may attend the school without paying such fees until the matter shall have been otherwise decided in the court.

Non Disputes.

The wording of the petition filed in circuit court by J. W. Outlaw and A. E. Brunner, thru their lawyers, Eddy and Farmer, shows clearly that there has been some misunderstanding among the Cottonwood school patrons.

The petitioners claim that there is an average attendance of 90 pupils in the school each month and that 25 cents would be a sufficient amount for each student to pay as incidental fee to defray the expenses of heating, lighting and room repairs. The $1.00 per term which the school board charges is too much, according to the plaintiffs, and they assert that such monies are not used altogether as an incidental fee but to pay the teacher.

Fathers Dissatisfied.

Judging from the complaints contained in the petition, it would seem that at least some of the patrons of the Cottonwood school are dissatisfied; that they would have cheaper schools. In practically every community in this county there is more or less disagreement as to the cost and operation of the schools for this is a subject which will not down.

J. A. Giffard of Big Creek is in the city today on business.

Cape Haitien, Oct. 3.—In consequence of the agreement between the Haitien rebels and officers of the American expeditionary force the rebels will deliver their arms to the Americans on Tuesday and the marines from the Connecticut will be withdrawn from Haitien soil.

The agreement for cessation of hostilities was ratified yesterday. The American staff, accompanied by Lemuel W. Livingston, American consul at Cape Haitien, and Gen. Carlos Zamor, former minister of the interior went to Quartier Morin, six miles out of this city, and there met the rebel leaders. A formal agreement was drawn and signed.

The rebel leaders returned to Cape Haitien with the Americans and details regarding the surrender of arms were completed.

LARGE CROWD HEARS HINDS

Farmers Turn Out in Large Numbers to Find Out How to Fight the Mexican Boll Weevil.

Farmers from most every nook and cranny in the county assembled at the court house this afternoon about 2:30 o'clock to hear Dr. W. E. Hinds, the state entomologist, explain how those who obtain their living from the soil may by using intelligent methods cope with the Mexican boll weevil successfully.

Among other things Dr. Hinds urged a material reduction in the cotton acreage. He told farmers that if they will gather all the cotton stalks and burn them just before frost that the boll weevils will be killed. Extreme heat or cold kills the boll weevils but the trouble is it is never hot enough nor cold enough in this part of the country to accomplish such purposes. Therefore the farmer must use his own methods and means to overcome the pest.

Day Cloudy.

AUDITORIUM OPENS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The city hall auditorium will be opened to the public Wednesday night at 8 o'clock and patrons of the theatre will walk up to the window and get their tickets just the same as if they were paying for them. Ushers will then show them to their chairs.

Chancellor W. R. Chapman of this city has been selected to make the opening address.

Musical numbers will be rendered during the evening and music will be furnished by the Dothan orchestra led by John J. Crary. There will probably be several songs by local soloists. The full program will be announced later.

noon farmers and business men began to gather at the court house. Probate Judge Crawford was holding court upstairs but court was adjourned in time for the meeting.

The meeting had been well advertised in The Eagle and otherwise, so consequently there was an unusually large attendance. Farmers knew of the meeting and discussed it among themselves last week. They had read the advance accounts in the Dothan papers and were keen to come to town today and hear what Dr. Hinds had to say.

Monday, October 5, 1915.

No one can guess what cotton is going to sell for. Men who have been dealing in cotton all their lives, know no more about what the market will do than the man who never saw a lock of it. Everything pointed to a low price year for 1915, owing to the war going on in Europe, but cotton is bringing a good price, and at a time of the year when it does the farmer some good.

The stalks on your land if plowed in, will be worth something to the land, but if you have bull weevils, and most sections of this county have them, it will afford too good a winter quarter for them. It is best to cut them and burn them; during this month, before the frost drives the weevils to their hiding places for the winter.

"MAKE YOUR LIVING AT HOME."

The south is in an exceedingly critical condition. The comparative high price of cotton has brought about an unhealthy frame of mind in an unexpected place, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

The farmers as a rule realize that raising corn, oats, hay and grain—a moderate diversification—saved them during last year. They also realize that had they grown a full acreage of cotton, the price would have been low. The price is running upward now because of the reduced acreage and an extraordinarily bad season. The bankers feel that to get back to a single crop next year would be a mistake. But a number of wholesalers and retailers in the cities now state that they are so busy that they are losing interest in the diversification campaign, and that the thing to do next year will be to grow a big crop of cotton.

Cotton, they say, is the only thing that makes good for general prosperity.

Let us see if this is true.

For six years previous to 1914 cotton commanded a very high price. Cotton alone was grown, yet 30 days after the outbreak of the war most of these individuals, who are now saying that cotton alone will make for prosperity, were running around the cities and asking people to buy a bale and writing their foreign orders to buy a bale.

Turning to one crop alone is putting the burden of risk too high.

The cotton crop should be the main money crop of the south, and will always be the command of the southern people. The cotton crop will never prosper. The cotton crop will get 50 cents a bale, and then they

VOICES HEARD AROUND THE WORLD.

(New York World.)

Using world's fairs as landmarks of progress, the Panama-Pacific Exposition will be identified with nothing more marvellous than the instantaneous transmission of the human voice partly by wire and partly by radio from New York to San Francisco and thence to Honolulu. Of the possibilities of this discovery little need be added to the remark of Mr. Carly, one of the inventors, who on the Pacific Coast maintained a conversation with a reporter for The World in this city—that he had had "better results when talking across nearly 3,000 miles of air" than Prof. Bell achieved when he first projected his voice only a few feet over a wireless in the seventies. Among the same success was had between New York and the Sandwich Islands, a distance of 4,000 miles.

It is no doubt true, as Mr. Carly says, that this invention will never displace the existing telephone or wireless telegraphy, but the demonstration already made shows that it must have wide and highly important uses. If men sitting at their desks in New York and Honolulu can speak to each other, oceans and deserts, beleaguered cities and hostile territories, even the greatest of terrestrial distances, will no longer offer serious obstructions to oral communication. To say nothing of war at sea, for most of the purposes of commerce and life-saving the spoken word may now carry further and more distinctly than the mystic symbols of the wireless, with fewer physical limitations than attach to that system.

The secret of this accomplishment is to be given only to the bought everything that grows on the farm from some other country.

And southern merchants and southern cities will have no assured prosperity if this is the order of living in the south. No matter if cotton were to bring 50 cents a pound, the scale of expense would be raised to about 48 cents and maybe 51 cents.

We cannot eat cotton, and if cotton goes to a low figure we are in a bad way. That is what happened to us last fall.

The only safe rule is to "make a living at home."

Amuse yourself of a living, then go out after a profit.

You can make a living at home if you will grow enough stuff on the farm for yourself and live at home. And then after a while you can slowly branch into the live stock business.

Make your living on your farm. Don't hire a man in Iowa or Illinois to make it for you on his farm. You may not be able to pay him when the season is over.

If you make your living on your own farm you don't have to pay anybody. Your farm becomes your debtor instead of your creditor, and your farm properly managed is the best paying debtor.

If we stick to cotton as a single crop during the next 25 years, even the delta land would become depleted in fertility so that land which now produces a bale to the acre would not produce half a bale. If we keep the soil rich we have got to change our methods. If you improve the soil of the high country, you have got to change these methods at once. A single crop that exhausts the soil, as does cotton or wheat, no matter what it fetches, will finally bankrupt any country that persists in it.

United States navy. Probably at no distant day mankind will have the full benefit of it, but meantime it will serve admirably as a patriotic contribution of science to national defense.

SONS OF MINISTERS.

President Wilson has added a word in defense of ministers' sons. It is timely. Sons of ministers have been more sinned against than sinning, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal. It is the old story of giving the dog a bad name. Because the sons of ministers have occasionally fallen by the wayside is no reason to assume that all will terminate their earthly careers in disgrace.

The great trouble has been that because they are sons of ministers the world has expected more of them than the ordinary man, and when they fail to measure up to the expected standard they at once become conspicuous.

The son of a minister is, after all, but a man, subject to the same weaknesses which belong to the race. The fact that their fathers are workers in the Lord's vineyard does not necessarily mean that they will do the same thing.

More is expected of a minister's son than the sons of other men. President Wilson is the son of a minister, and therefore has just cause to defend other sons of other ministers.

The fact is that because ministers are heard from the pulpits of the land, because they teach the word of God, because they are mental and moral monitors, laboring for the salvation of souls (they are enshrined, so to speak. They are not of the earth earthy, but seem to be a little above and a little better than the majority of men, and are so respected.

Since so much is expected of the minister, more is expected of his children than from the children of other men. What would pass unnoticed beyond the expression of miscellaneous boyish mischief, if committed by the minister's son becomes at once a grave offense.

Boys are boys the world over. They are more or less mischievous and some are positively bad, for no one has yet discovered the healthy American youth who is an angel of goodness and propriety.

Ministers' boys are like other boys and must have their fling. Do not expect too much of them. Do not look for prodigies because of the saintly calling of their fathers.

LO LESE MAJESTY IN AMERICA.

A St. Louis lawyer named Kurt von Reppert has come into prominence by announcing at a meeting of the German-American alliance, that the president of the United States is a "jackass" and an "ape" and either ignorant or a crook, says the Brunswick (Ga.) News.

This generally, neutral and patriotic language might have passed into oblivion if another St. Louis lawyer hadn't been so outraged by it that he applied to the United States attorney for a warrant charging von Reppert with treason.

The warrant, apparently, has not been issued. There is no such iron law of "lese majesty" in America as in Herr von Reppert's fatherland, where such terms applied to the kaiser would land the offender in a military prison within an hour, even in times of profound peace. We Americans are a tolerant and long-suffering people. That, of course, is why such foreigners as von Reppert, masquerading as American citizens, deliberately insult the country that gives them political freedom and a decent living.

It is to be hoped, too, in spite of such indignities, that the serious charge of treason will never be extended to cover such blatherskite offenses. The sanctity of the presidential office is sufficiently safeguarded by the innate decency and patriotism of genuine Americans. The proper punishment for the von Repperts is the contempt of their fellow citizens. That punishment is generally quick and sure, and is not bounded or qualified by party or race.

The most significant rebuke administered to von Reppert is the resignation from the German-American alliance of several prominent members and directors who couldn't stomach his un-American insolence.

FLORIDA NOW MUST BUY*ITS BOOZE IN PACKAGES

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 30.—At midnight tonight the Davis package law went into effect throughout the state. Under its provisions saloons will not be allowed to serve patrons at the bar, the law prohibiting any drinking on the premises. Only sealed packages will be sold, of not less than half a pint quantity. A number of barrooms in this city closed tonight, not to re-open unless the test case being brought before the supreme court to test the constitutionality of the act close at 6 p. m. to 7 a. m. should set aside the law. A test case is brought on the act that an act designed to be a package law is in effect, prohibiting so that it is unconstitutional. The fact that all packages covered in the act is not covered in the title of the bill. The act was passed at the 1915 session of the legislature.

Hotel bars are affected the same as saloons. There is some question as to whether the clubs, which sell only to members, will be allowed to operate. The law provides that saloons must be closed at 6 p. m. to 7 a. m.
